PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—Once a leading figure in the legislative halls of the state, State Senator John J. McClure, of Delaware county, convicted with 71 others in United States District Court this morning in a huge liquor conspiracy, today sentenced to serve 18 months in the Lewisburg prison and to pay a fine of $10,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—State Senator John J. McClure, of Delaware county, who as a Republican legislator once played a leading role in framing the statutes of the commonwealth, and his 71 co-defendants, today were found guilty by a jury in federal court of operating a huge graft ring to shield moonshiners, bootleggers, and rum runners.

They face maximum terms of two years in a federal penitentiary and fines of $10,000 each.

The verdict of the jury was delivered precisely at 11 o'clock when the 12 middle-aged men who decided the fate of the legislator, once considered a Republican gubernatorial possibility, filed into the hushed federal courtroom.

McClure dumbfounded Senator McClure was dumbfounded by the verdict as it was read to the court by Frank A. Schwab, of Philadelphia, the foreman of the jury.

It was testified at the trial that in one year the ring collected from law violators more than $220,000. With this as a basis the government sought to show that the ring grossed about $2,000,000 during its lifetime.

PA NEW OBSERVES

While driving on the Butler road Young Pa New noticed an unusual number of hunters Thursday afternoon.

Quite a lot of construction and repair work is being done about the city at the present time, Pa New notes. People are making necessary repairs before winter sets in. Several fire-damaged buildings are being repaired as well as a number of others, and there is some painting work being done, notably the South Mill street bridge.

What are your ideas as to work projects that could be undertaken under the new C. W. A. program instituted by the government, in Lawrence county? Send them in to Pa New. The chief aim of the program is to provide hand labor employment.

It would occur to Pa New that the project of clearing out the channel of Big Run as a flood prevention measure in the south side district, is just the kind of a job that the C. W. A. is looking for. A consideration—(Continued On Page Two)

Ambassador Welles Will Leave Havana

(International News Service)
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 24.—President Roosevelt's policy toward the island republic of Cuba stood explained today, in a statement in which he announced that the present ambassador, Sumner Welles, would return to Havana from this country for only a few days, and would be replaced after that by Jefferson Caffery, now assistant secretary of state.

Welles came here to give the president a comprehensive report on the Cuban situation, and after a five hour conference with the executive on Sunday, it was announced he would return to Havana. The president's latest statement bore out those orders as announced. He said that Welles would resume his former duties as assistant secretary of state in Washington after termination of his mission in Havana.

Mr. Roosevelt's action came after the ambassador proceeded from here to Washington and gave to Acting Secretary of State William Phillips the same report he presented to the executive. It did not come as a surprise. It has been no secret that Welles wished to return to Washington. He was originally sent to Havana with the expectation of returning as soon as practicable.

The president's latest Cuban statement was a reiteration of the administration's policy towards Cuba. It held out no hope for recognition of the republic pending establishment of a government which had the support of the citizenry.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 24.—Concrete measures were taken by Pennsylvania's State officials of another fight next week over provisions of regulatory legislation hung in the House of Representatives.

The body that gave a 144 to 61 approval of the McClure control bill is ready to voice its resentment if the Senate restores restrictions on private club sales the lower chamber previously eradicated.

Confident that his liquor program will be accepted, Gov. Gifford Pinchot summoned members of his cabinet and three persons he has agreed to point to the liquor control board to the executive mansion for luncheon today. There the vital problem of setting up machinery for the sale of liquor, on and after December 5 will be thoroughly discussed.

Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., of Butler who refuses to accept appointment to the liquor board, has not accepted the luncheon invitation. Robert S. Galloway, West Chester, and A. Marshall Thompson, Dean of the University of Pittsburgh law school, other choices for membership on the board, will be present.

So also will Attorney General Wm. A. Schneider, secretary of revenue Leon D. Metzger, John L. Hanna, secretary of property and supplies, Dr. James N. Rutz, superintendent of public instruction, Major Lynn (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The rift between those supporting and those opposing the administration's gold policy widened today as the new acting secretary of the treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., went to Warm Springs to lay the latest development before President Roosevelt.

These developments included:
1. Federal reserve banks are now selling instead of buying government bonds. Heretofore, the reserve banks have been fairly heavy purchasers of federal securities in the open market. In the past week, however, they have reduced their holdings.

2. The federal reserve advisory council opposed by resolution the current gold experiment.

3. Secretary Morgenthau has been excluded from meeting with the federal reserve board. The law provides that the secretary of the treasury sits with the board ex-officio, but an old ruling has been dug up which excludes the under secretary, which is Morgenthau's official title, even though he is acting secretary.

4. The treasury itself is supporting the government bond market (Continued On Page Two)

Tax Justice league will hold an open meeting at the court house this evening at eight o'clock. Subjects for discussion are the "Advisability of the Construction of Croton Viaduct and of the New Court House." A report will be made upon the legislative program and the extra session of the state legislature.

Throughout the rural districts there is considerable sentiment against a building program that will necessitate the issuance of bonds while the sentiment in the city seems to be divided.

The meeting is open to all citizens and all tax payers.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 24.—The Cubans sent a big delegation to Montevideo, South America, to attend a peace conference. That leaves 'em kinder short handed in their war at home till these get back.

There certainly is not much incentive for anything to be done right nowadays. A United States stamp printer made a mistake on one little batch of 24-cent air mail stamps (had it turned crosswise) and they brought $12,000. If he had had it plump upside down, it would have brought a hundred thousand.

We get another illustration of an "expert." This fellow Sprague that left the treasury in such a huff has been all this time finding out Mr. Roosevelt had already inflated.

A jury of one woman and eleven men returned the verdict of "not guilty" with dramatic suddenness last night after ten hours deliberation.

Mrs. Ruby Enemark, foreman and sole woman member of the jury, broke down in tears and clasped Miss Weltz in her arms after the verdict was read.

Miss Weltz testified that Grace had drugged and criminally attacked her two years ago, ruining her health, and that despite numerous pleas he had refused her financial aid. She said she had given up hope and went to Grace's luxurious country estate here Sept. 9, intending to kill herself, but that she accidentally shot Grace.

SATURDAY PAY DAY FOR C. W. A. WORKMEN

Saturday is the first pay day for the men employed on the civil works projects, Administrator L. B. Round stated today. The men will be paid for three days worked this week, the fiscal week ending on Thursday. The pay checks will be distributed at the emergency relief office on North Mill street at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning, with Miss Margaret Davis acting as paymaster.

The men who have been at work are asked to be at the emergency relief office sometime before 10:30 where their foremen will be present. Each foreman will certify the men as they pass through the relief office and the checks will be handed to them.

Projects that will be worked in the various localities of the county are coming in today. Mr. Round stated, and the engineering corps is busy drawing plans for the work to be done. A few days will be required yet to complete various organization details and by December 1 it is anticipated that the county program will get under way. By December 15 it is hoped to have it working in every borough and township of the county.

While the mass of detail in the administrator's office has subsided somewhat, it is still on a long day schedule. Mr. Round is determined to get the program under full steam at the first possible moment and to that end has been working night and day.

Police Report Dr. Wynekoop Has Confessed

Mystery Slaying Of Daughter-In-Law Is Cleared
Up In Chicago

VERBAL SLIP IS MADE BY DOCTOR

Admits Being In Room
When Murder Victim
Was Disrobing

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Dr. Alice Wynekoop confessed at 11:30 a. m. that she killed her daughter-in-law, Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, police announced. Lieutenant Otto Erlandson of the homicide squad emerged from the conference where Dr. Wynekoop was being questioned and announced "Dr. Alice Wynekoop has confessed she did it."

Erlandson stepped from a room in Fillmore police station to make his announcement and then immediately returned to the room where the gray-haired physician, former leader in community and humanitarian affairs and lecturer on child health, had broken down after more than 48 hours of grilling.

Makes Verbal Slip
Rheta's body, pierced by a bullet in the back, was found in the basement operating room of the doctor's W. Monroe street home last Tuesday. The body had been carefully wrapped in a blanket and placed on the operating table beside a gun, wrapped in gauze.

Almost immediately from the closely-guarded quarters in which the grueling inquiry had been conducted, came word disclosing that the confession, expected for hours by investigators, had followed a verbal slip by Dr. Wynekoop in answering a barrage of questions flung at her.

Inadvertently, it was said, Dr. Wynekoop admitted that she had been in the operating room of her gloomy mansion, at the time Rheta, unconsciously going to her death, had disrobed. When the body was discovered, it was attired only in a slip which had been pulled down to the waist.

On Mystery Errand.
On the heels of the announcement of the confession, police left on a mysterious mission to the weird 16-room Wynekoop home.

After her son Earle had been led away this morning following a long grilling by police of both the mother and Earle, Dr. Wynekoop was left alone in the private office of Captain Thomas Duffy with Assistant State's Attorney John Long. Long was washing his hands at a wash-bowl. The aged physician was sitting in an opposite corner of the room.

Suddenly the assistant prosecutor turned and said:
"For God's sake, doctor, why don't you tell what happened in that operating room?"

For the first time during the many hours she had been questioned, the "woman of stone" seemed startled (Continued On Page Two)

Set Date For Rivers Hearing

Appeal From Decision Of Engineers Will Be Heard On December 12

VALLEY MEN WILL BE IN ATTENDANCE

Word has been received by Secretary Alfred W. Chilton, of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango Rivers Improvement Association, that December 12 has been the date set for the appeal from the recent decision of the U. S. Board of Army Engineers on the canalization of the Beaver and Mahoning rivers.

The hearing will take place in the Munitions Building, Washington, D. C. at 10 a. m. on the above date.

It is planned to have a large delegation of local business and professional men present at the hearing, to augment the delegations from other cities in the Beaver and Mahoning river valleys, who will ask that the decision of the engineers be set aside, and the project given favorable consideration.

A great amount of new data has been prepared to strengthen the arguments advanced by proponents of the improvements, that the decision of the engineers was in error.

STATE SENATOR AND 71 OTHERS FOUND GUILTY

from 1922 until almost the eve of the trial in federal court.

Senator McClure was accused as the actual head of the ring from 1922 until 1927 when he was elected to the legislature. Slips of papers purporting to show the addresses of the ring members, "knocked off" for non-payment of "protection" and those he stamped with an "O. K." were introduced at the trial. No effort was made by the government to prove the handwriting was that of Senator McClure.

The legislature was accused of witnesses of personally accepting graft payments in his office in the Crozer building at Chester.

It was likewise testified that he personally paid off his "collectors and enforcers" there on a weekly schedule.

Those convicted with Senator McClure include Eugene F. White, chief clerk to the state house of representatives at Harrisburg, O. N. (Nick) Smith, chief of the Delaware county detectives; Edward S. Fry, city collector of county taxes, in Chester and Robinson Lowry, John J. Luttrell an alderman, and a score of prominent Republican ward leaders and lesser politicians.

Among them were Michael C. Trevisan, first assistant county detective; Maes Mel, another county detective; William A. McClurg, David B. Meehan, Edward Robinson, Thomas McCoombe, Andrew Frank, Thomas Pennell, John J. Ryan and Tod Moore the latter all ward leaders.

Among the other prominent defendants convicted were: John F. Bauer, former Chester city treasurer and Senator McClure's secretary; Arnold L. McNeal, investigator for the district attorney's office; Patrick Quinn, a former county detective and Bert Redding, a part time county detective and chauffeur for the district attorney's office.

Although Senator McClure, save for the sign of astonishment that swept his features, accepted the verdict stoically, over the defendants slumped over in their seats, wringing their hands in despair.

As news of the verdict traveled through the state old federal buildings, a shout went up from about 200 spectators congregated in the corridors.

Department of justice agents drove the crowd back as in the tense federal court room Judge George A. Welsh rapped for order.

Motions were at once filed for new trials, and denied by Judge Welsh. Counsel for the defendants then sought to have the court pronounce sentence at once so that they might be released on bond.

Judge Welsh ordered a 15 minutes recess stating he wished to consider the case in his chambers.

Thus, in a few dramatic minutes came to a temporary end one of the most sensational trials ever heard in a federal court.

After listening to the government's fiery prosecutor, Chet A. Keyes, brought here from Kansas City to conduct the case, pile up thousands of pages of testimony in the past eight weeks, the jury found that the defendants had all engaged in a huge conspiracy to defraud the prohibition laws now already dead.

Keyes flushed over the success of his efforts, issued the following victory statement:

"The jury system is safe! This jury has rendered a real public service to all the American people."

"The challenge of the grafter and the racketeer has been accepted and answered."

"Of far greater importance than the conviction and punishment of the defendants is the exposure of the vicious system."

Says Wife Was Mental Inferior

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Although an accomplished musician and talented in the arts pretty Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, 23 was "mentally inferior" to her husband Earle Wynekoop, he told police today in explanation of the five months estrangement that preceded the girl's strange murder.

The tall, handsomely dark Wynekoop, graduate of Lewis Institute here with a Bachelor of Arts degree, complained under rigid police questioning:

"Rheta just had a high school education, while I am a college man. That's why we did not get along very well. She wasn't up to my scholastic attainments."

started to cry. Sobbing he approached the doctor and gently took her hand. She trembled and said:

"How could I explain it? You could beat the case if it was an accident."

"I-I-I-I didn't kill Rheta."

That was all. Then Dr. Wynekoop, her lips just a thin, red line, became silent.

Captain John Stege then took over the questioning and then inadvertently the doctor admitted that she was in the operating room when Rheta was undressing.

Begins to Talk

Steger then pressed Dr. Wynekoop and said she began to talk.

"Dr. Wynekoop said Rheta was going to go downtown to get some music. On account of being ill health, she generally disrobed herself and went into the basement to Dr. Wynekoop's office where there was a scale, to be weighed."

"She came downstairs and undressed herself and got on the scale to weight. Dr. Wynekoop said she had been complaining of having a pain in the right side."

Dr. Wynekoop said: "Get on the operating table and I'll see if I can't help that pain of yours along."

She put some chloroform on the spot and gave Rheta a few sniffs of it. The pain was very great and Dr. Wynekoop said she was in the habit of giving Rheta chloroform when she treated it.

"After giving the anaesthetic to Rheta, she noticed that the pupils of her eyes were dilated and she was completely passing out. She felt the pulse and found there was no life in her and she tried to revive her for 25 minutes."

"Knowing that her medical career would be jeopardized by such a thing happening in her own household, she thought quickly and went over to the drawer of her desk and got the 32-caliber revolver and fired one shot, five inches away from the body as she lay on the operating table."

"She then went over and got a blanket and laid it over Rheta after getting a piece of gauze, carefully wrapping the gun and wiping off the fingerprints."

"She then went upstairs and put on her hat and coat and went out of the house and walked up and down Madison street for about 45 minutes. She set the time of the actual killing at four o'clock in the afternoon."

That was all of Stege's statement.

Held In Custody.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, central figure in the bizarre "operating table" murder of her pretty daughter-in-law, Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, was ordered held in custody today after a night of relentless questioning.

Detainment of the prominent 62-year-old woman physician came close on the heels of dramatic developments in the investigation, chief of which was the coroner's analysis showing that the girl wife was completely under the effects of a strong anesthetic when she was shot to death.

Extra Marital Affair.

Taken to the Fillmore avenue police station, Dr. Wynekoop was locked in a cell adjacent to that of Earle Wynekoop, her 24-year-old son and the husband of the murder victim, who upon his arrest disclosed an extra marital love affair with Miss Priscilla Wild, 22.

Supervising Police Captain John Steger, after questioning Dr. Wynekoop and her son intermittently for hours, announced that "several discrepancies" had been found in their stories.

Startles Investigators.

Wynekoop, a graduate of Lewis Institute here, startled investigators with the assertion that his murdered wife, a high school graduate, was "mentally inferior" to himself.

For that reason, Wynekoop said, he had left Rheta alone with his mother in the mysterious 16-room Wynekoop mansion where the young wife was murdered late Tuesday.

Besides the admission that Dr. Wynekoop knew of his relationship with Miss Wild, a ravishing, red-haired beauty, Wynekoop disclosed that he had not lived with Rheta as man and wife for the past five months.

Woman Chloroformed.

Coroner Frank Walsh ordered the woman physician held for further examination in connection with the murder after his chemist, Virgil Grant, reported finding enough chloroform in Mrs. Wynekoop's body to completely anesthetize her. The coroner concluded that the murder victim, stripped nude as though for an examination, was shot to death on the operating table while totally unconscious. Walsh said no formal murder charge had been lodged against Dr. Wynekoop.

The theory of Coroner Walsh coincided completely with that of Captain Stege, who concluded that the auburn-haired young wife had voluntarily removed her clothing for an examination by some one she trusted, lay back on the operating table and was murdered.

A 32 calibre revolver identified by Dr. Wynekoop as her property was used to fire the fatal shot into Rheta's back.

ROOSEVELT AND MORGENTHAU ARE IN CONFERENCE

through funds from the postal savings system, the farm credit administration, and the federal deposit insurance fund. It was denied, however, that the government was buying its own securities simply to support the market. Instead, it was said the government considers its own securities the best investment possible.

A quiet investigation is under way by government agencies into charges that "a conspiracy" is under way by prominent New York bankers to discredit the gold experiment by short-selling government securities.

All these matters, and some others involving treasury personnel in the new set-up, will be dumped in the president's lap by his new acting secretary head.

Morgenthau's short week in the treasury has been a hectic one. He has been the target for criticism by those who oppose the gold policy.

His high financial position, who resented his unprecedented order in "gagging" subordinate officials of the treasury; and by those whom he has removed from key positions in the treasury to make way for new personnel more in sympathy with the gold experiment.

Changes Undecided.

Whether there will be any change in the fiscal direction the administration has been traveling remains to be seen. Advice from Warm Springs would indicate not.

The president is represented as firmly convinced that he is pursuing the right course, and that the country-wide financial elements that have secretly opposed the whole trend of the national recovery program.

Moreover, the president is thoroughly convinced that his managed currency program has the substantial support of congress. Quiet surveys conducted by administration officials are said to have disclosed this to Mr. Roosevelt's satisfaction, notwithstanding the defection of a few Democratic stalwarts like Senator Carter Glass of Virginia.

A considerable majority of the Democrats, particularly those in the south and west who are the underlying sympathy with the underlying policy of the Roosevelt experiment—to raise commodity prices—as well as Republican progressives of the type of Senator Norris of Nebraska, can be relied upon to go along with the administration in its present policy, or even further along the inflation road.

AIRPLANES FOR ALL?

THE development of private flying in this country has been retarded by the lack of a low-priced, easily operated plane, says Eugene L. Vidal, director of aeronautics in the Commerce Department. He has a plan for mass production of a small plane which, in lots of 10,000, could be sold for about $700. It is described as a low-winged, two-passenger plane, made of a new steel alloy, with a small-bore eight-cylinder motor of about 4,000 revolutions a minute. It would be reasonably fast in flight, and would have a low landing speed of about 25 miles an hour—a big safety factor.

Such a plane, says Mr. Vidal, would cost less to own and operate than an average-priced automobile, and learning to fly it would be easy.

We shall see now how much our people want to fly. Plenty of them are buying autos. Doubtless, even in these pinching times, several myriads of us could buy planes if we wanted to, and if we trusted the planes and ourselves.

If there were a war scare, it would be easy to popularize flying in this way through government subsidy, Uncle Sam paying so much on every plane. But with all due regard for foreign perils, it is hard to see any signs of air invasion either from Europe or Asia.

SOUTHERN NEWSPRINT

It may be too early to announce the birth of a new and valuable industry in the United States, but the news that numerous Georgia newspapers have begun the printing of their regular editions on newsprint made from Southern pine indicates that another rich industry is more than a remote possibility.

The United States, the world's largest consumer of newsprint, imports two-thirds of its daily supply from Scandinavia, Finland, Russia and Canada, the latter leading. The reason is that spruce pulp, up to now, made the best paper and the domestic spruce forests had been wasted along with much of the rest of the timber resource.

Chemistry has made the pulp from Southern pine available for newsprint. The chemists have developed from this common tree of the South a newsprint of sufficient strength and quality to stand up under the severe tests of modern newspaper making.

Should this new domestic paper come into general use it will provide a market for 150,000,000 acres of Southern pine forests and provide the necessary impetus for cultivation of new forests on millions of idle acres stretching from Virginia to the Gulf of Mexico as well as the building of numerous lumber and paper mills providing employment for thousands and a new era of growth and prosperity for the South.

DEMOCRATIC "ECONOMY"

Where is the economy to which the Roosevelt administration pledged itself?

Mr. Farley has placed more Democrats in new jobs than economy forces have been able to eliminate. While Budget Director Lewis Douglas was steadily paring the old departments and turning civil service employees on the streets, Mr. Farley's able assistants have poured their own partisans into the new relief agencies.

Mr. Farley, of course, is the man who holds the title of postmaster general but whose chief duties seem to be dispensing patronage and building up by other means Democratic morale.

Up to October 1, a total of 145,118 jobholders had been removed from the public payrolls in pursuance of the economy program. But, during the same period, Mr. Farley had given jobs to 148,058. Nothing apparently has been permitted to stand in the way of dishing out jobs to the faithful, as many individuals with good civil service standing and non-partisan connections are out of jobs, while Democrats move in a rising tide. During September alone 31,413 Democratic names were added to the payrolls.

The postmaster general plans to complete the distribution of patronage soon and then to seek rest in a trip to Europe. That he has been a busy man since he entered the cabinet, none who has half-way followed his activities will deny. But it is not his duties as postmaster general that has sapped his strength. It is the heavy political work he has done.

The gigantic relief work entered upon by the administration seems to have proved a godsend to thousands of Democrats expecting to receive jobs as pay for their support of the party ticket.

This may be good for individuals directly concerned but in its effect upon the taxpayers at large there should be and probably is another word for it.

Another fine thing about the rural life is that you can't hear the neighbor's daughters cultivate their musical talent.

Notwithstanding the fact that half the world doesn't know just how the other half lives it doesn't want it to live that way.

No one has yet suggested taxing of the radio announcer. Possibly this would be an effective way to limit his blab, blab.

The folks who said repeal would never come should have taken a leaf from the experience of the folks who said prohibition would never come.

THE PESSIMIST IS

THE PESSIMIST is happier than you know.
He enjoys his own misery.
He has no disappointments, everything works together in his behalf in this uncertain world; and his forecasts of annoyance, discomfort and gloom come true often enough to insure him a measure of surly joy.

If he plans a picnic, he worries for fear it will rain. If it doesn't rain, he enjoys the picnic; if it does, he has the pleasure of saying I told-you-so.

If he buys stocks, he hopes they will go up, but he says they will probably go down, because that has always been his luck. They go up, and he reaps the profit; they go down, and his unhappiness is mitigated by his foreknowledge.

If he finds himself in a crowd he says, "I'm sure I'll get some sort of infection from this mess of humanity." And nine times in ten he does and not as unhappy as you would be if you had a cold.

Millions of words of pity have been spoken and written about Cassandra, the lady loved by Apollo and given the gift of prophecy by her divine lover, who afterward decided that her predictions should never be believed. . . . Cassandra, living in a bad time, always prophesied misfortune, but no man believed her. . . . She was unhappy, they say, but I don't believe she was utterly so. With her, comfort, her giving her a meager joy, there was always the consolation of saying to herself, "I knew it would happen! Didn't I say so?"

Yes, she did, and so does every pessimist remind us in advance that trouble is on its way, rushing enormously and destructively down the mountain passes, roaring and whirling and dooming us to loss and misery. . . . Yes, the pessimist is right and the pessimist is too often ghoulishly happy, but if that's the only happiness a man can distill out of life for himself, I'd rather be wrong, I'd rather be wrong, I'd rather be wrong, wrong, wrong!

MORE AMBITION—LESS GRUMBING

You may not have much ability in any line, in addition to being deficient in the rudiments of education; you may figure therefore that you have not had an opportunity to be a success in anything.

Are you making good use of your common sense?

Are you drawing on the education you have for all it will stand?

Early advantages you lacked, to be sure, so you think that there is no chance for you to be anything but mediocre.

But others who have made good in the world had just as heavy a handicap to combat.

The trouble with people is that they do not use what they know.

So the little they have becomes dormant.

Brains grow with use, and to do more thinking would be to increase your mental equipment and make it easier for you to learn.

The man who says: "I did not have a chance to go to school like other boys and how could I be anything but a poor scrub" is mistaken in his idea.

How hard have you ever tried to accomplish things or teach yourself?

No, you were not willing to do the studying—you would not concentrate.

It may not be too late for you to get a start even now.

Do more work to improve and less grumbling over lack of early advantages.

IN WHICH I ACKNOWLEDGE A GIFT

"A gift for you," my darling said.
From Sis and Bess and Flo.
A present tied with ribbon red.
Their love use what they know.
My strange surprise I can't begin.
Sufficiently to tell.
I opened the box and found within
A blue nightgown for Nell!

"I thought the gift was mine," said I.
When speech again began.
She answered: "It's so hard to buy
A present for a man!
The girls decided after all
That happier you'd be
If they should make their token small
A blue nightgown for me."

Had I the words of Shakespeare wise,
The genius of Shelley,
Some fitting tribute I'd devise
To that nightgown for Nellie,
I'd sing of lovely women three
Who would a man delight
And bought for him a drapery
His wife could wear at night.

Oh, gifts with her I've shared before.
Since good friends oft must choose;
Hand-painted barriers for the door
And things we both could use.
Grateful for years I've had to be
For cakes and Christmas jelly;
But now the girls have given to me
A blue nightgown for Nellie!

Hitler Victory In Germany
Is Believed More Than Farce

Nation's Demand For Equality Among Powers Read Into Results, Although No Opposition Was Tolerated Among Voters

Off-hand judgment that the election of a Hitler slate in Germany was a farce, because there was no opposition, is accompanied by the further conclusion, that in the solidarity of the support given to the dictator there was an impressive demonstration that the people demand equality with other countries. Some American comments place the blame for the spirit of Germany on those who failed to comply with the terms of the war settlement.

"London and Paris see Hitler's prestige and policy strengthened by the result of the election, and a new Germany rising which cannot be treated like the Germany bowed in defeat in 1918," according to the NEWARK EVENING NEWS. The HAVERVILLE GAZETTE sees the Hitler policy involved as an "emphatic protest against the insincerity of the great powers," and that paper advises that "hope for an effectual association of nations depends to a great extent upon international recognition of the justice of the protest."

"Germany has served unmistakable notice," in the opinion of the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "that it stands as one man for its rights and what it regards as the Reich's legitimate aspirations in the post-war era. This is the outstanding lesson of the plebiscite, and the statesmen of the world cannot afford to underestimate its significance. From this day onward Adolf Hitler is no longer merely the leader of a single political party. He is the indicated and unchallengeable master of a million German nation of sixty-odd million people, longer content to wear uncomplainingly the shackles imposed upon them fifteen years ago."

"It may be accepted," advises the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, "that the League of Nations or arms conference until they were ready to arm themselves as their neighbors are arming." The OMAHA WORLD-HERALD declares that "Europe faces a fact," and argues that the election "emphasizes the practically unanimous determination of the Germans to preserve their honor and self-respect as a nation at whatever cost. Their patriotism is flaming, and in the blaze differences that under other conditions would be acute are consumed." The OSHKOSH DAILY NORTHWESTERN avers that "it was to be anticipated that the Nazi Chancellor would receive much more support for his demand for the equality of Germany with other nations."

"The purpose was entirely psychological," thinks the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS and that paper offers the review of conditions: "Europe is to blame not for Hitler but for allowing the conditions in which Hitler came to power. Honest disarmament, moderate reparations, allowing Germany to keep her colonies, a conception of the Reich not as an enemy of past years but as a future neighbor; new frontiers, not many, but solely to give minority peoples government in which they could integrate themselves; a breath of idealism and humanity in place of the savage spirit of Versailles. If such principles had characterized the treaty, or if it could have been amended as soon as the passions of the conflict had died down, the great German people could hardly have been led to put themselves again in a position to menace the peace of the world."

"Hitler is in complete control of the German nation, and what is more, the Germans composing that nation are back of him almost to a man," in the opinion of the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, while the DAYTON DAILY NEWS remarks: "The world will laugh at the comic-opera aspects of Hitler's poll, but we cannot forget that in its issue as the German people have been caused to see it, this is as honest and earnest a national will as ever a great people united to express."

The ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS sees a reason for the development in the fact that Germany "has been driven to the wall and is now fighting back."

Condemning the nature of the election, the NEW YORK TIMES argues that "if it is to be demonstrated beyond any doubt that the German people have freely given their hearts to Hitler, it must be shown that they were free, and the election was not free." The BALTIMORE SUN emphasizes "the mockery of these parody elections with which dictators are forever assuring us that their power rests upon the love and admiration of their peoples." The ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION states that "a one-party government is now in the saddle," while the CHARLESTON EVENING POST holds that "an autocrat ought to play a lone hand and give no heed to the people." The DANBURY NEWS-TIMES, asserting that in many respect "Germany moves backward," is convinced that "a people cannot make progress in weapons only." The ROCK ISLAND ARGUS argues that "Chancellor Hitler will find it much easier to win an election at home than to gain the confidence of Europe." The SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS denies that the election was a "free, genuine expression of popular opinion."

"Hitler's license to do as he wishes in Germany," according to the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL, "does not need to be renewed."

Retail Liquor Licenses Good For One Year

Those Held In Districts Voting For Local Option Good Until Next June

QUESTION RAISED REGARDING CLUBS

When do retail liquor licenses held in districts that have voted for local option expire, and what is the status of clubs in those districts? This question was propounded to County Treasurer William O. Pitts, this morning, who after consultation with his attorney, J. Glenn Berry, stated that those who now hold licenses in the district that have voted for local option, can remain in possession of them one year from the date of issue. This would make the licenses expire about the first of next June.

Among the districts that have voted against liquor sales are New Wilmington, Wampum, Scott township, Wilmington township, Pulaski township, Neshannock township, Slippery Rock township, Plaingrove township, Perry township, Washington township and North Beaver townships. Licenses held in all of these districts will expire about June first and will not be renewed.

As to clubs, Attorney Berry is of the opinion that, under the Act of 1933, they will also be eliminated. The act designates clubs, among retailers.

There is some difference of opinion however as to the club question. Attorney George Muse and Attorney Norman A. Martin, who were present during an informal discussion of the matter with County Treasurer Pitts and Attorney Berry were inclined to the opinion that it might be necessary to have a supreme court decision on the matter of a club license.

Attorney Muse pointed out that under the Brooks law there was no special clause dealing with clubs. Under it clubs had continued to dispense liquor to their members. Their right was questioned and the matter was carried up to the Supreme court which rendered a decision in favor of clubs handling liquor for members, since it was supposed to be done without profit, the same as in a home while the 1933 act seems to prohibit clubs handling liquor in local option territory, it is likely that its validity will be tested when club licenses expire.

cessarily mean that his prestige in Europe has increased. Such well-nigh unanimous support as has been accorded him, however, could well be the starting point of a new phase of his career. This new phase, intelligently developed, might easily establish him ultimately as a constructive force in European politics and economics. If that were to appear as a fact, the question of prestige would take care of itself. But until the fact materializes, the rest of the world can be excused for being skeptical of the results of the complete ascendancy of the Hitler forces in Germany.

Reed Says That Soviet Russia Not Good Risk

Senator Reed Also Opposed To Inflation Program. Says People Are Unmoved

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH Nov. 24.—Continuing his broadside opposing currency inflation, Senator David A. Reed today has asserted that Soviet Russia might not be a good credit risk.

"They tell us the dollar will gradually decrease in value, but they don't tell us when it will drop or how much at a time," Reed told members of the Railway Club here.

He added that the Soviet government had failed to meet short time notes of Japan, Italy and Germany.

Turning his attention to the recovery program, Reed asserted he marveled at the manner in which people were standing by unmoved while their constitutional rights were being taken away from them by certain executive measures, said Reed.

"The people were little moved when the treasury department refused to make public its fiscal figures. They were more interested in whether Pitt won the football game."

HERRIOT MAY RETURN TO OFFICE IN FRANCE

French Cabinet Is Overthrown

President Lebrun Will Confer With Camille Chautemps On New Cabinet

HERRIOT MAY ALSO RETURN TO POWER

(International News Service)
PARIS, Nov. 24.—Camille Chautemps, one of the leaders of the radical socialist party and premier in 1930, emerged from the rapidly changing French political scene today as the most likely choice to head the next cabinet, succeeding that of Albert Sarraut, overthrown by the Chamber of Deputies early this morning.

Although Chautemps was expected to be the first chosen to form a new government, former Premier Edouard Herriot held the key position. It was generally felt that Chautemps, should he succeed in forming a cabinet, would be only an interim premier, with Herriot again in office before the end of the year. Chautemps and Herriot headed the list of political leaders scheduled to be called in for consultation by President Albert Lebrun today. All parties desired an early solution of the situation, which, along with other factors, has gravely imperiled the France.

Johnstown Men Face Charges Of Misapplication

Four Prominent Johnstown Bankers Face Twenty Indictments At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 24.—President David Barry of the First National bank and three other executives of the Johnstown bank, indicted several days ago for alleged misapplication of funds of that institution, had posted bonds today with United States Commissioner Ray Smith for appearance in federal court.

The indictments, 20 in all, were returned by a grand jury in Pittsburgh and also included charges of making false entries upon the bank's records. Others named in addition to Barry were Jacob M. Murdock and Harry Swank, vice presidents and directors, and Patrick F. McAnaney, cashier. Barry was succeeded last Monday as conservator of the First National, now being reorganized, by E. Allen Rhoads, who is associated with a division of the Washington comptroller's office. Approximately $115,000 is involved in the indictments, according to authorities.

Slayers Die In Oklahoma Chair

Two Slayers Calmly Go To Their Deaths For Brutal Murders At McAlester

(International News Service)
McALESTER, Okla., Nov. 24.—"If Christ on the cross looked down and said 'forgive them, for they know not what they do' why should I be bitter. You let your love for revenge overshadow justice."

With these words, Earl Quinn sat down in the electric chair in the state prison here today to pay the supreme penalty for murdering Jesse Griffith, a school teacher, near Blackwell, Okla., Dec. 28, 1930.

The body of Zetta Griffith, sister of Jesse, was found beside that of her sister. Quinn was charged with both murders but never was tried for the slaying of Zetta.

Executed with Quinn today was Tom Morris, negro, accused of the axe murders of Mr. and Mrs. Joe House at McAlester. He was tried on only one of the charges, however.

"The game is up, that is all" was the only remark made by the negro as he walked calmly to the chair. He previously had spurned religious guidance.

Plan Reopening Of Valley Banks

Plans Advanced For Reopening Of Banks At Beaver Falls And Ambridge

(International News Service)
BEAVER, Pa., Nov. 24.—Banking officials in two Beaver county boroughs—Beaver Falls and Ambridge—today were engaged in drafting new methods for the reopening of closed banks in both communities.

Reorganization committees have been working on plans for resumption of unrestricted business in the Ambridge Savings & Trust company and the closed State bank of Beaver Falls, but present developments indicate a wide variance between preliminary arrangements and those now under consideration.

Whereas former suggestions in the case of the Ambridge institution called for liquidation of that town's bank and its subsequent absorption by the Economy National bank, proceedings now reported under way lean toward organization of a new state bank. The original plans were abandoned after a conference between state banking authorities and representatives of the bank officials.

A petition to the state banking department has been presented by members of the Beaver Falls banking house for authority to regain themselves. Instead of under the jurisdiction of the banking department. The "self-governing" system said to have the approval of the county court and the majority of depositors, spokesmen for the bank hold is more economical.

INTUITION
(International News Service)
DENVER—"Say, it smells like something burning," Herman B. Castle, deputy district attorney, shouted into the telephone. "Do you smell something 'burning'?" "What?" sputtered the voice on the wire. "No, I don't smell anything."

Then Castle noticed that his pocket, into which he had shoved his pipe while answering the telephone, was afire.

No one is rich enough to do without a neighbor.

STEEL PURCHASE
(International News Service)
BOSTON—A total of 30,000 tons of steel rails for the Boston & Maine railroad, and another 10,000 tons for the Maine railroad, and another 10,000 tons for the Maine Central will be purchased at the suggested price of $36,375, contingent upon arrangement of the proposed financing plan through the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Prophecy: After one year of repeal, people will hate the new system worse than they hated the old.

Americanism: Urging us to buy more to bring back prosperity; cheapening our dollars so we can't buy so much.

Gen. Johnson Saved Jobs For Local Newsies

Find Distribution Of Papers
By Boys Is Big Business
Proposition

WELFARE GROUPS WANTED BOYS BARRED

When representatives of the various branches of newspaper publishing gathered in Washington last summer to consider a code for their industry, it developed that the largest group of individuals to come under the provisions of the proposed code was not the editorial employees, the printers or the pressmen, but the half million and more boys who deliver and sell newspapers. It developed further that these boys earn approximately $100,000,000 a year by their part-time work, averaging less than an hour and a half a day, outside of school hours.

Thus publicly, and for the first time, the business of delivering newspapers—the only business in the country largely conducted by boys—was recognized for the big business that it is. Until then, time few people outside the circulation departments of newspapers had realized how tremendous is the task of placing more than 36,000,000 newspapers, fresh from the presses, in the hands of newspaper readers daily.

Johnson Steps In.

Consideration of the newspaper code, had hardly started before the demand was made, on behalf of certain welfare groups, that it, like the cotton textile code and others, absolutely prohibit the employment of younger boys. Publishers, some of whom had started their newspaper careers as carrier boys, protested that by no stretch of the imagination could the work of delivering newspapers after school be compared with child labor in a cotton mill, but there were grave fears that in the headlong haste of codifying, the prohibition might slip through.

Was the national recovery act going to bring depression to Boyville? Gee! It didn't seem right! What was General Johnson going to say about it?

They got their answer promptly enough from the gruff administrator of NRA General Johnson, as it happened, used to deliver newspapers himself.

"I don't think," he said, "that I would have liked to have anybody tell me that I couldn't deliver my papers."

He accepted a provision designed to prevent abuses, providing only that no boy should be allowed to deliver newspapers if such work would interfere with his school hours or be calculated to impair his health. Thus the jobs of several hundred local boys were saved for them.

Dentists May Use "Stainless Steel"

High Price Of Gold May Force
Dentists To Use Cheaper
Material

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24.—Another desertion from the gold standard—this time in the name of science—faces the country today.

And in place of silver, the familiar substitute, stainless steel is being advocated. That, at least, is the movement to be found in the ranks of the dental profession.

At the recent convention of the Odontological Society of Western Pennsylvania, held here, stainless steel was advocated as a replacement material for the yellow metal which has increased so rapidly in price.

With the government quoting gold at $35, the dentists held stainless steel is a welcome substitute for plates and bridge work.

In addition to its economy, the new substance offers the advantage of lightness. Dr. J. V. O'Donovan, president of the society, said: "It can be foreseen that stainless steel will have increased use as gold prices advance."

PETROLEUM STILL IS 80 FEET LONG

(International News Service)

CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 24.—A petroleum still 15 feet in diameter and 80 feet long was recently transported over the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad on flat cars from a shipyard here to an oil refinery at Marcus Hook. Railroad officials said the still was the largest single piece of machinery ever shipped by rail.

"20 EXTRACTS" IS A GODSEND

New Castle Lady Says Misery
Of Years Disappeared; Can Hardly Believe Such A
Medicine Costs
Only 75c.

Mrs. Chas. Longacre, of 910 Temple Ave., New Castle, is still another well-known resident of this city who is publicly praising the new mixture of Nature's Medicines, known as TWENTY EXTRACTS, which is now being introduced to crowds daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's Drug Store, 118 E. Washington St.

"The first thing I want to say in this statement of mine is that it is the whole truth in every respect and I will verify it to anybody," said Mrs. Longacre. "I had gotten so bad off with my stomach after practically every meal I ate. These awful gas pains would come over me and my stomach organs would bloat up and turn sour and ferment. Was subject to sharp pains across my back, right over my kidneys, and besides all of this trouble I was a regular victim of constipation. In fact, I had to take some kind of a physic nearly every night and my bowels just wouldn't act of their own accord at all. Had sick headaches and bilious spells at all hours of the day."

"That was exactly my condition and it seemed like no matter what I tried or did, my suffering wouldn't let up, until finally I was simply discouraged and didn't know what to do for myself. I heard so much about Twenty Extracts and what it was doing for suffering people here in New Castle that I made up my mind to try it, and I want to say right here that it was A GODSEND to my health. I can hardly believe such a medicine costs only 75c a bottle, because I have paid ten times that much for medicines that never did me any good. But Twenty Extracts seemed to go right to work inside of me and a stop to the awful stomach pains and what it was doing. I was regulated PERFECTLY for the first time in years. It drove the pains out of my kidneys and stopped the sick headaches. This wonderful medicine improved my whole system. I never saw or heard told of anything like it and I will never stop praising it."

Hunting Wife Who Left Him While He Was Overseas

Veteran Merely Wants Her
Long Enough To Secure
Her Signature

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24.—Santa Lloyd Stanfield is looking for his wife and $1,266. Until he finds her, well, he's just going to keep on looking.

Stanfield, 39, a World War veteran of Mayfield, Ky., told his story at the Missing Persons Bureau here, how he has hitch-hiked more than 6,000 miles looking for his wife, May, whom he claims left him for another man while he was overseas during the war.

"Now here is the reason I want to see her," the traveling war veteran explained to bureau attaches. "My government pay checks were returned to Washington when my wife remarried. I'm sure of this. The government owes me $1,266 and I can't get it until I find my wife and get her signature on a government form sheet."

There was no malice in his story. He said it was not his wish to break up his wife's peace and happiness with the other man.

"All I want is her signature," he reiterated. "Virtually penniless, he spent the night at the Improvement of the poor headquarters."

Milk Bottle Loss Is $40,000 Item

It has cost Milk Consumers In Pittsburgh That Amount In
The Past Year

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24.—Milk bottles during the last year have cost milk consumers $40,000 and taxpayers the cost of transporting 1,200,000 extra pounds of rubbish in the Pittsburgh district.

These figures are the result of a report made to city council here by dairymen following an investigation. Many of the 600 tons of bottles found in the city rubbish pile were broken, according to the report to council, where plans are being made for letting garbage contracts for the coming year.

The chairman of the board of one of the leading Pittsburgh dairies said this loss of bottles costs milk distributors around $40,000. The loss, he says, must indirectly be paid by the purchasers of milk.

Some of the bottles shoved into rubbish containers can be sterilized and used again, it was pointed out, but those which have been chipped, or in which paint and other matter has been placed, are a loss to milk companies.

The report says, in part: "If people were more careful to return bottles to their dairies, their carelessness would probably be reflected in the price of milk. If a bottle costing five cents makes only five trips from the dairy, and is then broken, or spoiled, each of those quarts of milk must cost the consumer an extra penny in the long run."

"Thank goodness, Chipso hustles dirt out of clothes without being rough," says mother of five active "dirt-catchers"

All the while we were taking this picture, Mrs. John F. Ryan's youngest—one year old that very day!—really wanted to be at his daily job of mopping up the floor with his rompers! Sister too, who is seven, and the two, four-, and five-year-old boys, had given up pressing engagements with dump trucks, go-cycles and attractive mud-holes to "stay clean this morning."

"I wash every day for the baby," Mrs. Ryan told us, "and do a big weekly wash of grimy blouses, trousers and underwear. I depend on CHIPSO for everything—the heavy washing as well as the light—blankets, curtains, cleaning, dishes. I use a package or more every week.

"Chipso certainly soaks dirt out! Even on my husband's work clothes I don't put in any extra rubbing. They come out as nice as can be. Yet Chipso leaves colors as bright as new. It is safe even for my silk stockings and the children's nicest woollens.

"Chipso doesn't bother my hands, either—that shows how safe it is," Mrs. Ryan said. "I've certainly given Chipso a thorough trial in the last seven years and I call it a work-saver as well as a real clothes-saver."

Chipso is not adulterated with the harsh substances contained in inferior soaps which gradually weaken fabrics and dull their color. Chipso loosens dirt harmlessly by RICHER SUDS. That is why Chipso-washed clothes stay new-looking for years.

Don't endanger the clothes you have spent good money for by washing them in cheap flakes or strong granulated soaps and powders. Get Chipso from your grocer. At its low price, Chipso is the biggest value in rich safe soap on the market today!

Hope Student Court Will Function Soon

A meeting of student representatives was held last Monday in the auditorium. A report was heard from Bob Jamison concerning the student court committee. They are completing plans for the court, which, it is hoped, will be functioning by next semester. The court may even be tried out this semester. A report from the sale of cards with the school song on was also given. After this plans were discussed for reviving the social hour, but no definite steps were taken.

SWITCH NEWS EDITORS

As the senior A's turn their attention more and more to the publication of their year book, the "Ne-Ca-Hi", a group of capable and prominent senior B's has been organized who are taking charge of the weekly news. This group consists of Ruth Wilkison, editor; Burden John and Wallace Byers. The senior A's are also helping in this work, but the senior B's are taking the major part of the responsibility. These students are candidates for the annual staff of June, 1934.

STUDENTS SEE FILM

An educational sound picture entitled "The Gift to Montezuma" was shown to an assembly of the upper classmen Wednesday, Nov. 22, third period, in the high school auditorium. The picture described the process of making chocolate from the cacao bean and was greatly enjoyed by the students.

As the auditorium cannot hold the entire student body at one time, the sophomores saw the film on Tuesday.

GIRL RESERVE DANCE

One of the successful social events of the Senior Girl Reserve Club was staged last Friday night in the gym of the Y. W. C. A. Only Girl Reserves and their guests were admitted. Thelma Fox, who supervised the decorating, deserves much commendation for her splendid arrangement and color scheme. Orange and brown were the colors chosen for this event. The fascinating literary programs were made through the efforts of the handicraft group. As special guests and chaperons the following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Replique and Mr. and Mrs. Ruby. The 36 couples in attendance danced to the music of a popular local orchestra.

SENATUS ROMANUS MEETS

A meeting of the Senatus Romanus was held Monday, third period. Reports were made that the sales of Christmas cards and writing paper were progressing nicely. The names of students to be conscripted were proposed and will be voted on at the next meeting after their scholastic record has been investigated. Conscribed members of the club are those who have had an excellent rating in Latin but have not been admitted through the junior high contests or through the yearly honor ranking. A report was also made that the treasury, which has been in a depleted state, is slowly increasing.

FRENCH CLUB PROGRAM

On Tuesday, Nov. 21, the Cercle Francaise enjoyed one of the most interesting programs of the semester. The honor guest for the day was Anthony Casber, a talented student violinist, who accompanied the members of the club as they sang French songs. The students made most of this opportunity to learn a great many new pieces.

Plans were discussed for the organization's party, which will be held the evening of November 23 at the home of the president, Marian Bergland. The following committee of senior A girls is completing arrangements for the event: Marian Bergland, Leah Baird, Minnie Bodendorfer, Beryl Nunn and Pauline Manos. The affair promises to be a great success and will be only one of many which will be held throughout the year.

HI-Y MEMBERS FROLIC

A gay time was had by all Hi-Y members and their guests who attended the Hi-Y dance which was held Monday evening, Nov. 20, at an inn along the Youngstown road. Dancing was enjoyed from nine to 12. Music was furnished by a popular orchestra.

Dean Thompson Much Surprised By Appointment

University Of Pittsburgh
Dean Of Law School Will Confer With Pinchot

NAMED MEMBER OF LIQUOR BOARD

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24.—Common sense and an impartial honesty of judgment will be Dr. A. Marshall Thompson's working policy as a member of the state liquor control board, "if my appointment is finally approved," the University of Pittsburgh law school dean said just before leaving for Harrisburg.

He was to be in the State Capitol today, apparently to confer with Governor Gifford Pinchot on his appointment as one of the three liquor "czars" of the commonwealth. He declined, however, to make any comment concerning his visit.

Still surprised over his selection and reluctant to make any lengthy comment on liquor control until the appointment has been confirmed by the senate, Dean Thompson indicated his personal stand on repeal, that of the avowed dry, would not influence his judgment as a member of the liquor board.

Asked if he had favored repeal, the gray-haired educator replied: "Well, I can't say that I did; but if the people want repeal I am ready to conform with their will. My appointment came as such a complete surprise I have not had time to give much thought to the problems of control."

"We are under a new regime now," he added, "and for the present I can only say that I will be guided by common sense and the desire to work out an honest solution for each community, whether that community in the past has been wet or dry."

United States Asks Greece To Deport Insull

Ways And Means To Deport
Samuel Insull Pointed Out
To Greek Government

(International News Service)
ATHENS, Nov. 24.—The Greek government, after receiving representations from the American government, today studied the possibility of finding some way to deport Samuel Insull without arousing hostile public opinion in Greece.

It was understood Lincoln MacVeagh, the American minister, on instructions from Washington, pointed out to Greek authorities several ways and means of deporting the former Chicago utilities magnate, who twice has been freed by the Greek courts in American extradition attempts.

The Greek government was seriously considering the suggestions made, but feared the public, in sympathy with Insull ever since he first fled here, would raise cries of scandal if Insull were to be deported.

Paul In Corinth

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

1 Cor. 2:2—"I determined not to know anything among you, save

Jesus Christ, and him crucified." (The international uniform lesson on the above topic for November 26 is Acts 18:1-17; 1 Cor. 1:1-2, 8, the Golden Text being 1 Cor. 2:2. "I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
From Athens, where Paul suffered one of the greatest failures of his ministry, he came on to Corinth. Athens did not persecute him; it just scoffed at him, which was worse for Paul to bear than persecution. He came to Corinth alone, having left Silas and Timothy at Thessalonica.

Paul's visit to Corinth brought him into the midst of the wealth and wickedness of the leading city of Greek culture. His first contact was with Aquila and Priscilla, fellow craftsmen with himself in the trade of tentmaking, also fellow Jews who had but recently been expelled from Rome by the edict of Claudius (the Hitler of that day!). But for their strengthening fellowship Paul might have been utterly discouraged with the moral degradation of the city, the most licentious influence of which emanated from the temple of Aphrodite, with its degrading orgies that gave tone to the social life of the Corinthians.

Paul's Preaching In Corinth
Against this black mass of heathen corruption, Paul began the attack armed only with the sword of the Spirit which is the word of truth: "Paul was pressed in the spirit and testified" or "constrained by the word." His confidence in this weapon is declared in his Epistle to the Corinthians: "Christ sent me ... to preach the gospel; not with wisdom, lest the cross of Christ should be made void. For the word of the cross is to them that are perishing foolishness; but unto us which are

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Walker and daughter, Betty Lou, spent Monday evening with the former's mother, Mrs. Raney Walker, of West Middlesex, who has been confined to her home seriously ill for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Davis and children, Robert, Dora Jane and Joseph, and Howard Reigle of Seio, Ohio, spent the week end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vaughn. Other guests at the Vaughn home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Stellar and children, Johnnie and Joseph, Jr., of West Middlesex.

Many Projects Are Discussed By Directors

Chamber Of Commerce
Board Plans To Send Delegation To Washington

STREAM POLLUTION IS BEING STUDIED

Thursday afternoon's meeting of the Board of Directors of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce was devoted to the discussion of a number of interesting topics, following the customary noon luncheon.

Considerable time was taken up with the discussion of the hearing on the development of the Beaver and Mahoning rivers, to be held before the United States of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors in Washington, D. C., on December 4 or 11.

To Send Delegation

It was decided that a delegation of outstanding citizens and representatives of business interests should attend this hearing. In all probability there will be from ten to fifteen business men representing the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and other interests of New Castle attend this hearing in Washington at which time a brief prepared for the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango Rivers Improvement Association by J. C. Argetsinger, Attorney for the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce and the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango Rivers Improvement Association will be presented before the U. S. Army Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, and argument and hearing on this brief will be held.

President Genkinger was authorized to appoint a committee to make arrangements for the attendance of this delegation, the committee being Messrs. T. F. Morehead, chairman; Thomas H. Hartman, and W. Walter Braham.

Discuss Pollution
Communications from Honorable Kenneth A. Reed, member of the Pennsylvania Board of Fish Commissioners on the prevention of stream pollution were read to the Board. In these communications it was stated that a million dollars had been allocated by the National Industrial Recovery Administration to the U. S. Public Health Service for this purpose and a discussion was held as to efforts to prevent stream pollution on the Slippery Rock Creek and other streams in the district. The Board went on record as approving this movement and will lend all possible assistance.

L. B. Round, Civic Works Administrator for Lawrence County, and a member of the Chamber of Commerce Public Works Program Committee, reported on the program of the Lawrence County and City of New Castle Public Works Programs and on the work to be done by the Civic Works Administration. Mr. Round stated that the County Commissioners of Lawrence County were in Harrisburg today to present several County projects before the Emergency Relief Public Works Board for the State of Pennsylvania which is functioning in connection with the provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act. The Board of Directors went on record as giving the support of the Chamber of Commerce to Mr. Round and to assist in this worthwhile movement to relieve unemployment in this district.

Marcus Feuchtwanger and Secretary Chilton reported the activities and the progress being made by the local Compliance Board of the NRA and by the New Castle Chamber of Commerce Committee functioning in this capacity. It was stated by Mr. Feuchtwanger that 160 cases had been considered since the last report.

The matter of the change of materials in the construction of the New Castle Post Office was discussed at this meeting and a communication from Congressman Swick was read. It was the wish of the Board of Directors that this matter remain in the hands of Congressman Swick, who is acting as a committee of one for the New Castle Chamber of Commerce and the citizens of New Castle in this matter.

The meeting was a well attended and interesting one with many problems affecting the city of New Castle and our community being discussed. The meeting was presided over by President Louis C. Genkinger and those in attendance in addition to President Genkinger were Vice President T. F. Morehead, Directors T. H. Hartman, A. C. Hoyt, John H. Lamb, Jas. K. Love, Fred L. Rentz, Jas. M. Smith, Sr., W. K. McAfee, L. B. Round, W. W. Braham, B. H. Kamenberg and Secretary Alfred W. Chilton. Marcus Feuchtwanger, chairman of the New Castle NRA Compliance Board was a guest.

The Directors unable to attend by reason of absence from the city were: Hon. Jas. A. Chambers, W. V. Duff, P. J. Flaherty, W. F. Moody, and Thomas W. Dickey.

DISCUSSING MONEY SPENDING

Enon Valley, Pa.,
November 22, 1933.

Editor The News:—

Some questions and some quotations. Why cannot our officials see the hand writing on the wall? Why bury their heads like the ostrich in the sands of unbelief? Because there is no depression to them, they will not see that it is very real to the taxpayer.

Read the words written on the wall!

"U. S. may lose $300,000,000 from defaulting nations."

"Waters says state is facing crisis, $282,000,000 deficit."

Lawrence county already has a bonded indebtedness of about $1,000,000.

Why not, in the name of good common sense, reduce the cost of state and local government by reducing salaries and cutting out useless expenditures? As we said before, they do not use the knout in Lawrence county, but instead just call in the force of public opinion, through the newspapers!

Should not the question of building a new court house be put to a vote of the taxpayers?

Personally, we do not see that the hiring of 46 men per month, as on the new postoffice, is much of an excuse for putting the taxpayer in further debt.

Why take city folks from the relief ranks and put county people into that class?

As for a lot of the money spent for relief, there are two classes of people in the world, lifters and leasers. Many people are very willing to collapse on the shoulders of those who refuse to yield to the depression, thus giving them a double burden to carry.

From the day on which the slogan "Make the world safe for Democracy" started, we have been losing our rights, and going deeper and deeper into debt.

Almost the entire population of the United States seems to believe that the government has some deep secret, (and free) well of revenue from which to dip, to pay for all these bond issues that are proposed year after year.

Can we not see that the property owner and taxpayer has to pay the bills?

There is an evil for which I see no easy correction. Taxes are not high in considerable part by the influence of groups. We turned over our educational program to experts, which seemed a sensible thing to do, and now that we must economize, we find them working incessantly to thwart our will in reducing expenses. This is unfair.

Here are the words of Calvin Coolidge, spoken in 1928:

"One of the most important institutions which became more firmly established as the result of the Revolution was the old theory of local self-government. But there are always those who are willing to surrender local self-government whenever they find that some abuse needs correction in their neighborhood. Instead of applying a remedy themselves, they seek to have a tribunal sent on from Washington to discharge their duties for them, regardless of the fact that in accepting such supervision they are bartering away their freedom."

A few words from Col. R. R. McCormick: "One act of congress has purported to wipe out our constitutional and inherited right. We are today little if any better than a nation of subjects, dominated and domineered over by an army of officials, modeled after Russia, Italy and Germany."

So, the servant has become the master! One more fact, "Federal loans must be repaid," declares Ickes. Let us have no more bond issues. "The capacity of officials to spend other people's money develops with the opportunity. Experts estimate that the nation is insolvent today. Our national wealth is less than the total of our national debts, and the debts are increasing while the assets are decreasing in value. This cannot go on much longer. The sooner taxpayers take the job of reduced public expense and tax exemption into their own hands the better it will be for all of us."

Yours for justice,
M. McCALLA,
Route 2, Enon Valley, Pa.

Big conservatives are willing to recognize Russia now. Think of the orders to be got if the Reds mix with the Japs.

"I shall always be a staunch supporter of San Cura Ointment for I believe it saved my little girl from having blood poison and has healed everything we tried it on." Mrs. D. B. Sinclair, 403 N. Lena St., Dathan, Ala.

"I am enclosing one dollar for which please send me four cakes of San Cura Soap. I have been using the San Cura products for some time and I find them splendid for all skin troubles." Jas. W. Geiger, 321 D. St., N. E. Washington, D. C.

Finished Church By Lottery Scheme

(International News Service) MAYS LANDING, N. J., Nov. 24.—The old Broad Street Presbyterian church at Bridgeton, built on the proceeds of a legalized lottery, will be the mecca for hundreds of persons of all denominations on Thanksgiving Day, when Thanksgiving services will be held for the 131st time.

The edifice, once the scene of a murder trial which ended in a capital punishment verdict, was erected in 1792. There was not money enough to complete the building and the legislature authorized a lottery to raise $2000.

Tapped Gas Main To Run "Stills"

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—Even the gas company at Chester "contributed" to the fat pocketbooks of Delaware county still operators who are now on trial in the United States district court here.

Jose Ruml, confessed bootlegger and government witness at the trial, told on the stand how stills were run on gas drawn from "tapped" lines of a company main. He estimated the gas concern was "gyped" of $4,000 during a three-month period.

Supposed Pheasant Proves To Be Hen

(International News Service) ANNVILLE, Pa., Nov. 24.—Millard Leininger, Harrisburg, an employee of the Reading company, is in the market for an illustrated booklet containing pictures of various small game animals.

While visiting his parents here, Leininger decided to arise early one morning and bag some small game. He spied what he thought was a pheasant strutting over the grounds beneath his window.

Creeping silently out of the house, he procured a gun and blazed away at the bird.

The Leininger family enjoyed a chicken dinner that evening, the "pheasant" was a Rhode Island Red.

Athletic Field To Be Grassed

Grading, Draining, And Grasing Of Lincoln Field To Start Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 24.—Following suit of borough officials in providing work for Ellwood City unemployed, the board of education at a special meeting in the Lincoln school last night, completed plans for the grading, draining and grasing of the high school athletic field.

By unanimous decision the board decided that the work should be started immediately, and that will mean Monday morning. This project is part of the board's civil works program.

Included in this work will be the dismantling of the old bleachers and the construction of new portable ones and also making a practice field where the present tennis courts are located.

This project involves grading the football field for surface drainage to the sides of the field, laying a four inch drain on each side of the field for its entire length, and grasing the playing field. The present soil must be treated or covered with top soil before grasing. The practice field will be made to extend from the Hartman building to Oak avenue. A four and a half foot stone wall will be built next to the sidewalk, the entire length of the practice field.

Plans were also discussed for the leveling of the playground at West End school. This will necessitate only hand labor. Also leveling of the school ground at Ewing Park school. This project will consist of planning and harrowing the entire rear portion of the school ground. No action was taken on the latter case.

At this time the board voted to instruct their architect to go ahead and draw up plans for the construction of the new wing to Lincoln school.

Awful thought! Suppose we get in a war and the enemy has wit enough to growl: "Stick 'em up."

Construction To Be Pushed Along

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Winter construction under the public works program will be "pushed to the limit" Secretary of Interior Ickes instructed his aides today.

"Hundreds of men now receiving pay checks from projects should not be forced on relief rolls because of a mere prejudice against winter construction," he warned.

LARGEST LOCOMOTIVE IN FREIGHT SERVICE GOES THRU DISTRICT

One of the wonders of a Century of Progress—the world's largest freight locomotive—passed through the New Castle district over the Pennsylvania lines early today on its trip to its home ground, the rails of the Delaware and Hudson railroad.

Arriving here last night the mammoth engine, its proud exhibition over, halted for the night at the Pennsy's seventh ward shops. It left for Erie at 7:37 a. m. today.

The locomotive is heading toward Wilkes-Barre.

ANESTHETISTS URGED TO STUDY GLOWWORM

(International News Service) CHICAGO—Study of the glowworm might aid medicine and anesthesia, Dr. Andre Crotti of Columbus, O., recently told the 12th annual congress of anesthetists.

"The glowworm was the first anesthetist," said Dr. Crotti. "It anesthetizes or paralyzes its prey by stinging it. If for some reason the insect does not devour its victim, it revives with no ill effects. Study of the worm might aid medicine."

Gould's Casino Is Destroyed By Raging Flames

Magnificent Casino Owned By American In France, Is Lost Of $5,000,000

(International News Service) NICE, France, Nov. 24.—Frank J. Gould's magnificent Casino, the Palais De La Mediterranee, was destroyed by fire today.

The Casino, long one of the most popular gambling houses on the Riviera, was built at a cost of $5,000,000.

Late this afternoon, more than four hours after the first started, the flames were still raging. Firemen had little hope of saving anything but the walls which are of marble.

The Palais De La Mediterranee was rivalled in splendor only by the historic Casino at Monte Carlo.

What a world! Sadly needing more money and won't monetize silver for fear of enriching the wrong people.

All you need to make times good is to make the $1,000,000-a-year man buy 1000 times as much flour, clothes and so on as the $1000-a-year man.

Mt. Jackson Legion Auxiliary President Writes To Members

Dear Auxiliary Members and Friends: At the beginning of this new year in American Legion Auxiliary work I should like to call upon each one of you personally to thank you for your co-operation in the past year and urge your greater support for the year that is to come. This is impossible on account of the large territory covered by our unit so I am writing you through the press and hope that you members who can not attend meetings regularly and your friends of ours may learn in this way what we are doing.

Naturally in beginning a new year our first thought is membership. November is a special membership month and we have organized our forces in two divisions and will stage a race until Dec. thirty-first to see which side will have the most members to their credit.

Will you old members and friends who are eligible consider for a moment what this membership means. It is among the most precious of your possessions. Your right to be an Auxiliary member has been won for you by the service of your husband, son, father or brother to his country in time of war. Your Auxiliary membership gives you the privilege of going forward with the men of your family as they carry into peace time the service rendered during the war.

As the World War passes further into history the women of America are recognizing more and more the importance of their connection with that great struggle through the service of their relatives and through their own services. Every year a larger and larger number are discovering the inestimable value of being a member of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Our unit to date has to its credit eleven new members enrolled for the coming year. We extend to every eligible woman in our community a warm invitation to become one of us.

I will try to write you a note each month to acquaint you with the work of the largest patriotic organization of women in the world.

Sincerely yours,
HELEN KENNY,
Unit President.

Cruiser Building Program Explained By English Premier

J. Ramsay MacDonald Hurries To Assure United States Of No Enmity Intention

(International News Service)
LONDON, Nov. 24.—Great Britain's recently announced enlarged cruiser building program "does not mean that in the future the United States will be regarded as a potential enemy of Britain," Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald told the House of Commons today.

Nor does it mean, the premier added, that any naval building undertaken by the United States will be met by this country.

The prime minister made his statement in answer to a question by Geoffrey Mander, a member of the Laborite opposition. The British program, he said, is not directed against any particular country.

At the time plans for increased cruiser building were made known, Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, declared Britain was undertaking the construction because of new ships laid down in the United States and Japan.

He declared that new cruiser building by the United States would lessen Britain's power in this arm of the fleet, but admitted that both American and Japanese naval construction was within existing treaty limits.

SPEAK AT COUNTY SCHOOL MEETING

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 24—Dr. Herbert L. Davis, assistant professor of chemistry at Westminster College, and Mrs. Mary C. McConaha, assistant professor in English, spoke at the Lawrence county school meeting at Shenango high school Wednesday evening.

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will tell you a lot. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be "as regular as clockwork." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative; effective for all ages, and may be given the youngest child. PLAN BUCKWHEAT RODEO

The highlight of the local Rotary club's social program of the year, the annual Buckwheat Rodeo at which the local club plays host to all the Rotarians of the district, is receiving the attention and engaging the efforts of every member of the club, who are completing arrangements for the "round-up" which is to take place on the evening of December 4.

The president of Rotary International has been invited to attend and address the men and unless some unforeseen obstacle occurs he will be here to speak. The vice president of the national organization will also be here along with the district governor, Mr. Beeler of Grove City.

SUPPLY JOBS

New Wilmington will not be neglected when the Federal Civil Works Administration starts its projects to employ the idle men of the community. According to Mr. Fillmore Campbell, local burgess, our community will be called upon to present public projects, upon which the idle men of the community will be given work. These projects are to be approximately all hand labor. As soon as the forms for registering the men arrive a call will be issued for registration in our town at Burgess Campbell's office. The Planning and Zoning Commission appointed by Mr. Campbell consists of W. F. Campbell, burgess; Wallace McKean, burgess elect; James Minner, street commissioner; Fred Williamson, school board; Haskell Patton, Westminster college; Fuller Stewart, local architect.

LEARN OF DEATH

His many friends here will be saddened to hear of the death of Mr. Arthur J. Coddling of Newton, Kansas, at his home on Saturday, November 11. Mr. Coddling was for several years a beloved and respected citizen of the community. He was the proprietor of the store now owned by J. K. Wilson.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

The annual community Thanksgiving service will be held on Thanksgiving morning in the United Presbyterian church from ten to eleven o'clock. The sermon will be given by Dr. G. S. Bennett of New Castle. The offering will be for Community Welfare work.

CHEST BOARD MEETS

The Community Chest board of the community met in the school house on Thursday evening, November 23, at 8 o'clock. Routine business was transacted and a report given of articles received from the last in-gathering.

Toylands Beckon To Hundreds Of Children

"Now is the time," the Walrus said, "to talk of many things." But accustomed as he was to talking of shoes and ships and sealing wax and cabbages and kings, even the Walrus would have difficulty in talking about all the things seen in the toy shops just now.

It isn't Christmas for some time yet, but the toy departments are open, the mechanical and electrical toys are on display, and you don't have to build up any alibi that you want to take the youngsters down to see them. Just drop in and get as big a thrill as though you were only six.

Mechanical Wonderland.
Something happens to the clock while you're in the toy department. The minute hands slip around like seconds and the hour hand goes into high gear. You stop in for ten minutes and an hour slips by you before you get started around properly.

There is the electrical train department. Long lines of sleek looking coaches, baggage cars and freight cars with snappy engines in front that go puffing and puffing around the circular track, tiny replicas of the Capitol Limited or the Chief or the Golden State Limited.

Over across the way there are builder toys that challenge your genius and dare you to come over and construct an office building. Bicycles, scooters and pushmobiles, mechanical clowns that waddle along with a silly smile when you wind them up, wheelbarrows that promise havoc to the family buffet, boxing gloves and wooly bears, fuzzy rabbits and big bad wolves, airplanes, solid looking trucks, soldiers and Indians, and every one of them demanding some of your time.

For Little Girls.
But wait, you have only touched the boys' toys. The girls have to have their share of attention so you step over into the little girls' department. Blonde and brunette dolls, some of them looking like Garbo and some like Mae West. Cradles and buggies and hammocks, tea sets and tiny pianos, blocks and jacks and miniature rocking chairs. Here's a tiny telephone that says something like "hello" when you take the receiver off the hook. There's a set of dishes that is complete down to the butter pats. What a time looking at all the toys. If you are six you are transfixed with amazement. If you are 36 you stand around hoping the clerk will ask you to try one of the toys, and wondering if you can borrow a couple of the neighbors' youngsters to bring down Saturday morning.

Toyland does something to you.

Rolls back the years like a blanket, chases any thought of the gold standard or inflationary methods out of your head. No matter your age you walk around in a sort of glow, carried back to your kid days thru the medium of toys that you never even thought of when you were a kid.

It isn't Christmas yet, but these toy departments start the Christmas spirit inside of you. No holly, no mistletoe, no Christmas trees, just toys. But down inside there is something that begins to stir around and gives your purse a swift kick in the slats, urging it to give up.

Most of us give up so easily.

He Was A "Count" But Kept It Mum

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24.—To his closest friends and his fellow workmen he was Charles Lillienberg, Wilkensburg.

When death claimed him a few days ago, his true identity and his desire to return to Sweden and resume his title were revealed to all. Lillienberg—Count Lillienberg now—kept his claim to aristocracy a secret for 27 years. He cast off his title when he came to America because he wished to be in accord with democratic standards.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—The fifteen grandsons and granddaughters of the late John McCrea must shun tobacco and stay aboard "the water wagon" or forfeit their share of a $71,958 trust fund.

In a codicil made to his will in 1927, McCrea wrote: "It is my will that none of my grandchildren, who at the time of my death or thereafter shall be given to smoking cigarettes or using tobacco in any form or imbibing in spirituous liquors, shall receive any interest whatsoever in my estate, their interest to be divided among the remaining grandchildren."

The trust was established for McCrea's five daughters and two sons, the money to be divided among the grandchildren after the death of the last member of McCrea's immediate family.

Farmers Warned About Paying For Processing Tax

Farmers Slaughtering Hogs Must Make Return To Government

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24.—Farmers and others who are not paying processing tax when they slaughter hogs and sell their products were warned today by David L. Lawrence, collector of internal revenue.

Collector Lawrence pointed out that it is a violation of the agricultural adjustment act for farmers and others not to pay the federal levy. All persons, he explained, who slaughter hogs for market must file returns and pay processing tax.

According to Lawrence, the tax applies even in cases where the producer slaughters his own hogs and sells or otherwise disposes of any or all the products.

"We kept well last winter"

THOUSANDS of people "kept on the sunny side of life" last winter. They kept themselves free from common constipation—the ailment that so frequently tears down resistance to "colds" and other winter infections.

Stand guard over the health of your family this winter. Correct common constipation the safe way—by proper diet. Serve them frequently with a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN is also rich in blood-building iron.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in severe cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, omelets, breads, etc. Sold by all grocers, in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Alienists Will Give Testimony At Pittsburgh, Pa.

Hope To Determine Mentality Of Harrison R. McCready, When Fund Was Established.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14.—Alienists and doctors were to take the stand in Common Pleas Court here today, Attorney Charles J. Margiotti announced this morning, in an effort to determine the mental condition of Harrison R. McCready, Pittsburgh's "play boy," when he established a $150,000 trust fund.

The trust fund was established for his first wife and child.

His second wife, on the witness stand, told of her three-day courtship and marriage to McCready. She added that he drank more than a quart of whiskey daily.

The court fight has been marked by several clashes between opposing counsel as to whether a guardian should be appointed by the court for McCready.

Bride Wears Not So Much As A Veil In Nudists' Marriage

ELSONORE, Cal., Nov. 24.—With principals, preacher and spectators all standing in their "birthday" clothes, a wedding ceremony was performed yesterday at a nudist colony seven miles southwest of here in a secluded sylvan valley.

The bridegroom was Jim Goodman, a railway conductor and the bride, Miss Susie Wise. They went to San Francisco on their honeymoon. Goodman and the preacher,

Rev. Clarke Irvine of the Temple of Nature church leaped down a path from their bungalows to a well, singing out "Won't you join us?" to several nude men guests. The guests including a young painter with a Van Dyke beard, heeded the call.

In the clearing the bride discarded a kimono, all she had on, and the ceremony was performed. Some of the women guests wore slippers, but nothing else.

"I married this way because I like the simplicity and freedom," said the bride, a nudist of three months. Goodman, colony member for four months said he liked to come down on week ends, take off his stiff uniform and "romp around."

La Guardia should be happy. Popular as he is, Mussolini can't dismiss him and take the job himself.

Floating Airports to be Financed by U. S.

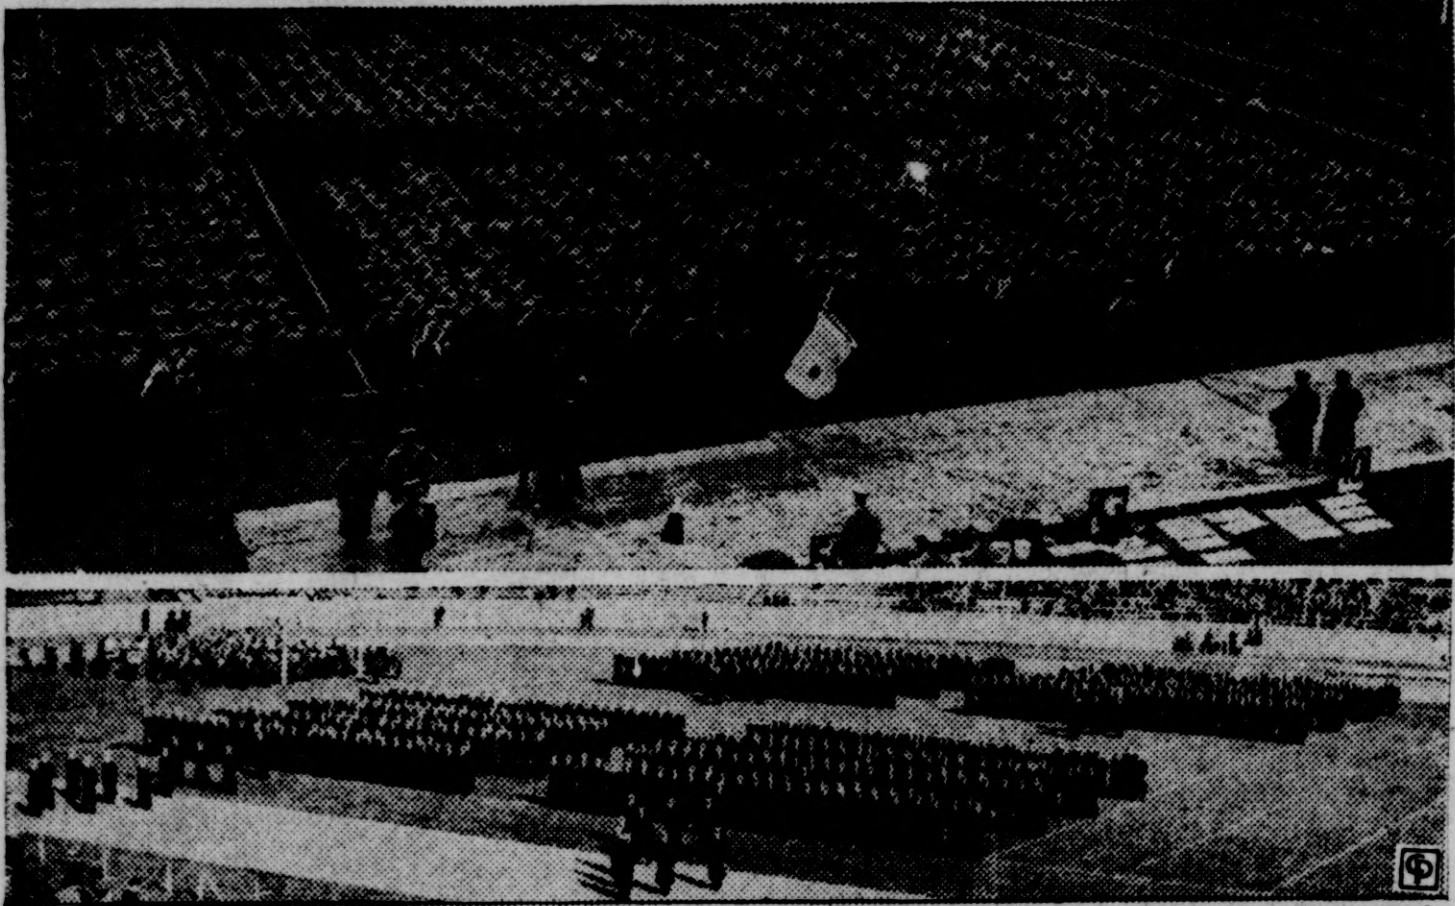

An artist's conception of proposed floating "landing field," or seadrome, construction of which has been approved by the government. Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper (right) announces the Public Works Administration has agreed to allocate $1,500,000 for immediate experiments to determine the feasibility of placing five seadromes across the Atlantic to Europe as stopping off places for planes engaged in regular trans-Atlantic service. Plans call for expenditure of $30,000,000. At left, Edward R. Armstrong, of Holyoke, Del., inventor of the seadrome, demonstrating his models. (Central Press)

Fordney, first men to explore the region above the earth's atmosphere on this continent, let reporters ply their questions. Major Fordney is apparently trying to conjure an answer to the "how did it feel" question. (Central Press)

KAY FRANCIS, "BEST DRESSED WOMAN", GIVES HER TEN RULES FOR SMARTNESS IN DRESS

Kay Francis, known as one of Hollywood's best dressed women, poses in evening, lounging and sports clothes for camera.

Kay Francis is known as one of Hollywood's best dressed women. She has her own costume technique. It is: 1, study your figure carefully; 2, buy good materials; 3, be sure your clothes fit;

4, always suit your type; 5, buy practical things; 6, pay especial attention to accessories; 7, don't select fashionable colors if they are not becoming; 8, if you're too tall, don't wear low heels to make you look shorter; 9, carry yourself proudly, and 10, don't attempt the exotic.

HIGH CURLED HEADRESS, MOLDED LINE ADOPTED FROM GAY NINETIES

Stylists see a period of romance and elegance returning, inspired by the Gay Nineties. Dorothy

Mackaill, screen actress, shows the 1933 version of the mode in the huge hat, left, and the formal costume with widened shoulders and molded figure lines, right. Both costumes are worn in her latest picture. This romantic feeling also is revealed in veils and other feminine fripperies.

Commodity Prices Reach New High

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Wholesale commodity prices during the past week reached a new high in the upward trend which began nine months ago, the increase amounting to nearly seven-tenths of one per cent, the Labor department said today.

"Present wholesale prices," the department said, "reached the highest level since Aug. 1931. They are more than 20 per cent above the low of the year which was reached during the week of March 4."

The price rise was due to a general upward movement in most classes of commodities. Six of the ten major groups comprising the survey showed material advances. Three groups registered fractional decreases with prices for the miscellaneous group remaining at the level of the week before.

Sharp Increases
A sharp increase of more than 8 per cent in grains and smaller but marked advances in wholesale prices of livestock, cotton, eggs, and tobacco caused the index number of wholesale market prices of farm products as a whole to rise nearly 6 per cent.

The manufactured foods group showed a further strengthening of prices. Advancing market quotations for flour, lard and vegetable oils offset decrease in the price of most fresh meats. The group as a whole moved upward more than one-half of one per cent.

Further strengthening in the price of non-ferrous metals and iron and steel products caused the metals and metal products group to rise fractionally to the highest point reached in two years. Building materials on the average gained more than one-half of one per cent.

Two McClures In General Assembly
Since the opening of the present special session of the general assembly, and the introduction of the McClure liquor control bills there has been some confusion in the minds of many people as to the author of the bills. Many have thought that the bills were presented by State Senator John J. McClure, who was found guilty today in the federal courts in Philadelphia of prohibition law violations.

There is no connection between the two. The author of the McClure bills in the general assembly is a member of the house of representatives, his name being James H. McClure. He is a resident of Glassport, Pa., outside of Pittsburgh, and is a respected member of the Allegheny County Bar.

Sensor John J. McClure represents Delaware county in the upper branch of the assembly and is no relative of Representative James H. McClure. Senator McClure has not been in attendance at the special session, having been in court in Philadelphia for the past seven weeks.

Refer Pole Request To City Solicitor
Council convened in the municipal building today and referred to Solicitor Robert White a communication from Claude Timlin, maintenance engineer for the New Castle Street Electric Railway.

He said since the abandonment of their West Washington street line the city electrician had asked the company to let standing a wood pole at Greenwood avenue and West Washington street.

The city has a signal wire strung on the pole.

Council wants to clarify any legal technicalities that may arise before they formally accept the pole.

Man Who Guides the Nation's Finances

One of the youngest men ever to hold the post as head of the United States Treasury Department, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., at 42, becomes Acting Secretary of the Treasury as William H. Woodin takes an indefinite leave of absence. Morgenthau, whose father was Ambassador to Turkey in the Wilson administration, has long been a close advisor and a neighbor of President Roosevelt. His farm in Dutchess County, N. Y., is near the Hyde Park residence of the President. Mrs. Morgenthau is an intimate friend of Mrs. Roosevelt—they are shown as they attended the opening of the last session of Congress together. The Acting Secretary of the Treasury was chairman of the Farm Credit Administration and he was Conservation Commissioner of New York previously. His interest has largely been with farm affairs, publishing The American Agriculturist for the last ten years. (Central Press)

REALLY fresh COFFEE ★ IS GROUND BEFORE YOUR EYES

by real freshness in coffee, we mean Natural freshness not "preserved" freshness. And this is assured when freshly roasted Coffee beans are ground to order before your eyes. Nature's seal, the coffee bean itself, is the best guardian of coffee flavor; when this seal is broken for you by grinding, at the moment you buy, you know you are getting all the rich, full coffee flavor. That is the reason A&P coffee is ground when you buy it.

Fox Hints At Swindling By Banking Group

Senate Banking Committee
Will Probe Charges Made
By Former Film
Magnate

PROMINENT MEN ARE MENTIONED

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The charge of William Fox, former movie magnate, that a group of New York bankers "swindled the public" while capturing control of his $300,000,000 movie empire, was investigated today at the senate banking inquiry.

Fox charged Albert H. Wiggin, then head of the Chase National bank, Harold L. Stuart of Halsey, Stuart & Company, John Otterson of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, and Harley L. Clarke, a Chicago capitalist, headed the banking group.

Developed Rapidly
Fox already has related how he expanded his movie empire from a humble start. He came to America an immigrant boy and gradually developed motion picture companies, equipment concerns and theatres into a $300,000,000 organization.

The first occurred just after the market crash of October, 1929, he said. He needed money to cover his margins on 260,000 shares of Loews, Inc., held by New York brokers. All the bankers, with whom he had done business for years, he added, refused him any loans and tied up all his deposit accounts.

"I faced ruin," he explained, "but Albert M. Greenfield of Philadelphia, came to my rescue with a loan of $10,000,000 and I was saved."
Saved By Eastman
Late November, 1929, said Fox, he learned bankers were going to drive down the value of Loew's stock on his margins would be wiped out. Desperately needing money once more, he turned to Clarke who promised him relief but failed to provide it. Four minutes before the market opened on the day of the banker's attack, he obtained $6,400,000 from the Eastman Kodak Company and was saved once more.

A third time, in February, 1930, he was saved from ruin when Clarke called a $600,000 loan. Then, the Bancamerica took over the loan and liquidated 25,000 shares of G. T. E. stock for $1,050,000.

A charge by Fox that department of justice records on a Fox Film-Loew merger were changed may bring further inquiry. Fox said Louis B. Mayer, California magnate, told him the late James Francis Burke, counsel for the Republican National committee, changed the records in the first days of the Hoover administration. He said he didn't believe Mayer but he did believe the records had been changed.

With a hilarious exhibition of the famed "little red schoolhouse" as the stage, the evening show, New Castle Kiwanis and their wives—90 or more of them—gathered last night in the Mahoning grange, out in Mahoning township, for a Ladies' Night doings that upset aplenty their previous fund and foolishness records.

A delicious chicken dinner, served by the King's Daughters of the Mahoning Presbyterian church, came as the introduction to a rip-roaring evening that kept the crowd all smiles—and worse—from the beginning to the end.

Under the able direction of Attorney Gilbert E. Long, the schoolmaster, the spontaneous old-fashioned school program was conducted following a one-act play entitled, "Dreams," which three talented senior high school dramatists presented.

The play characters were Miss Ruth Shale, William Fletcher and Edwin Harper, members of the high school's dramatic class.

As the entire audience became the schoolfolk, Teacher Long, garbed in a perfect for the role, called the class to order and presented the visiting school directors who had come to visit the students on the closing day of school. Directors were Judge James A. Chambers, James Mayberry and Attorney R. L. Wallace.

Laughter ran rampant while the class recitations, led by President Norman E. Clark, Fred C. Wolford and Jesse Kerr, the school traditional cut-ups, were given. The three cut-ups wore boys' clothes to class.

At the close of the recitation period came the usual closing-day program at which the visiting directors marveled. And spankings, for the unruly ones, were not passed up.

Would Legislate Protection For Federal Credit

Senator Pat Harrison Of Mississippi Suggests New Legislation

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—New banking legislation to safe-guard government credit against "treasonable attacks" was demanded today by Senator Pat Harrison (D) of Mississippi.

Harrison's demand was made as the administration launched a sweeping investigation into charges that a group of New York bankers have conspired to wreck the government bond market through short sales of securities held in their own portfolios.

The investigation into these charges is being conducted by the New York Federal Reserve Bank and by the government.

Describing the charges as "of utmost seriousness," Harrison expressed confidence that the true facts will be ascertained speedily. He declared:

"If there is any movement on the part of any bank or banker to loan government securities for the purpose of affecting the credit of this government, the facts ought to be ascertained and if the law has been violated the perpetrators should be convicted."

"If it is shown the practice is merely unethical but not a violation of criminal statutes, then a law must be passed to stop such operations."

New Ruling For Banks Is Given

Chairman Walter J. Cummings Makes Ruling On Banks Joining Insurance Group

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Announcement by banks that they will become members of the federal deposit insurance corporation may not be made until the membership in the fund if officially published by the corporation, under regulations promulgated today by Chairman Walter J. Cummings.

Reports had been received that some banks have been advertising their prospective membership thus giving them an advantage over other institutions. Under the law all member banks of the federal reserve system automatically become members Jan. 1 while non-member banks which meet the corporation's requirements may enjoy the benefits of the fund.

Many Banks Apply
So far 6,135 non member banks have applied for membership in the fund out of the 10,348 to which application blanks were sent. Examinations have been completed of 3,605 of the banks, but no announcement will be made until after all have been examined when the entire list will be made public.

The temporary fund effective Jan. 1, insures in full individual bank deposits up to $2,500. The permanent features of the law go into effect July 1 insuring deposits up to $10,000 in full. From $10,000 to $50,000 seventy five percent and over $50,000 fifty percent. Cummings explained that 97 percent of all individual bank deposits are of less than $2,500 so that the majority of depositors will get 100 per cent protection.

Johnson Forgets Battle With Ford

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 24.—The battle in which Henry Ford locked horns with two-fisted General Hugh S. Johnson is a "forgotten incident" the NRA administrator said here today.

Johnson made no reference to the automobile manufacturers and their celebrated feud in a speech here last night in which he assailed critics of the recovery program, but at his hotel, before departing for Warm Springs with a satchel filled with codes for presidential approval, told International News Service:

"I'm not worrying any longer about Henry Ford. That incident is forgotten. Ford is complying with terms of the code, and that's all we care about."

Acting Secretary Of Treasury Goes To Georgia To Talk With Roosevelt

(International News Service)
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 24.—Calm in the face of very criticism of his monetary policies, President Roosevelt today prepared for the first of a series of important conferences with his acting secretary of the treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr. Morgenthau was to arrive here about 11 a. m. from Atlanta. He left Washington last night, arrived in Atlanta this morning, and was to motor over.

The visit of the treasury head was held to be of tremendous importance, despite assertions he had nothing specific to take up with the president.

In old-time monetary battle was developing in the nation's capital, and Mr. Roosevelt wants the latest report possible on the situation.

Seek Ordinance On Sunday Sports

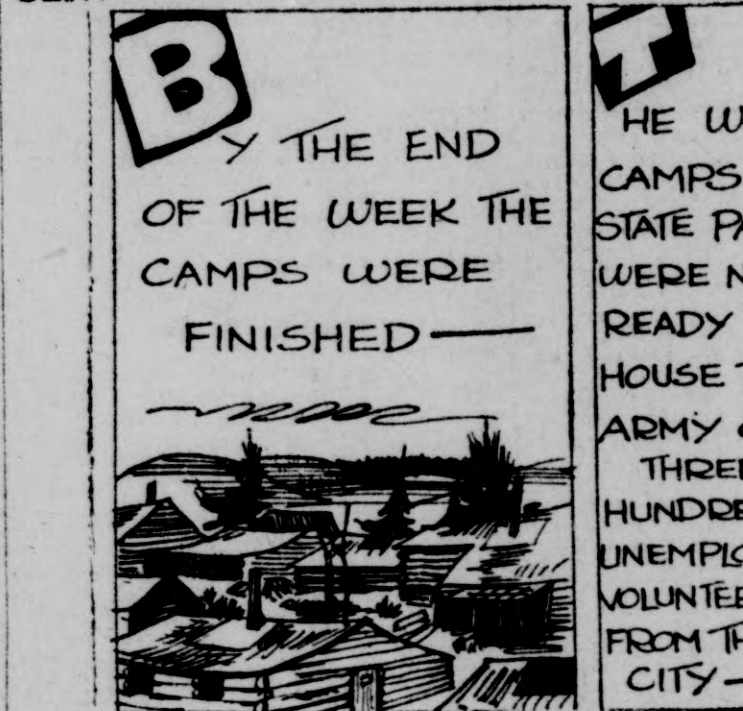

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Nov. 24.—Sunday sports, adopted by a wide margin by local voters at the recent election, remain illegal in Williamsport because city council refuses to enact the necessary enabling ordinance.

A local professional football team, which moved into an adjoining township for one of the first Sunday games in this section, in the meantime is threatening to force the issue to a showdown by scheduling a game within the city limits.

Council, according to all indications at City Hall, intends to wait until after January 1, when a new councilman will take office, before the ordinance is introduced.

Flurry In Utility Stocks
Sends Market Up Two Points In Some Cases

MOTOR SHARES
ARE UNCHANGED

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—An early flurry in the utility shares resulting in gains running to 2 points featured forenoon trading on the New York Stock Exchange today. While the general list turned firmer after the opening the action was not particularly impressive.

Strength in the utility shares was understood to be due technical influences which began to appear yesterday when the group failed to give ground along with the rest of the list indicating an oversold condition. Public Service, American Water Works, and Consolidated Gas were in the van of the upturn.

United States Steel and other pivotal industrial shares including American Can, McKeesport and DuPont failed to show any signs of breaking out on the upside. Motor shares were quiet and showed little change. The rail stocks including New York Central, Atchafon, Union Pacific and the lower priced issues were firm and quiet.

Continuance of the government gold price at $33.76 brought further strength in the dollar aiding government bonds.

Fall of the French cabinet also worked in favor of the dollar. Commodities markets, however, ignored the dollar's strength and wheat gained nearly a cent and cotton steadied after early softness.

Trading was of moderate proportions throughout the forenoon.
